

Putting controll of the media in the hands of a few people would limit access to unbiased information